It is a graduate business school with a focus on the humanities. The college offers more than 50 undergraduate majors and is home to graduate programs in the social sciences, the humanities and the fine arts. The college is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. The college is a member of the Association of American Colleges and Universities. Institution History In 1891, a group of fifteen businessmen formed the Collegiate Company (later the McGraw-Hill Companies) to promote the publication of the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia. This company became the McGraw-Hill Financial Company in 1895. In 1912, the McGraw-Hill Company purchased the City College of New York and moved its operations to New York City
